Rory: I'm here to win

After three runner-up finishes at St Andrews and with his father once again by his side, McIlroy believes this is his year to win the Alfred Dunhill Links

Rory McIlroy tees off this morning at St Andrews hoping this will be the year he finally wins the Alfred Dunhill Links Championship.

The Northern Ireland golfer, currently World No.6, finished runner-up in 2009, 2011 and 2014 and says: "Perhaps this is the year I can go one better and end my season on a high."

The four-time Major champion has had a close relationship with the Championship. In 2007, at 18, he became the youngest player to earn a European Tour card from tournament play when he finished third.

McIlroy, who will once again be playing with his father Gerry in the Team Championship, added: "The Alfred Dunhill Links is a great, late season event and I really enjoy the format. The support I've had from the Scottish and visiting fans has always been fantastic."

"I have had some wonderful memories on these courses. I won my European Tour card after the 2007 Championship and I've played with my Dad a couple of times since – always very special experiences and times I'll never forget."

Crowd favourite McIlroy believes he's coming into the tournament in good form. He said: "It's the best I've played all year, good thing it's at the end of the season. But it will be great to play a few rounds with my dad."

"It's a relaxed atmosphere and a very social week. Hopefully I'll end the year on a positive note."

And he promised to share tips with his father on the greens, adding: "I'll read some putts for him but that's about it. He has his own caddie and I have mine and we don't get in each other's way."

Tyrrell targets historic double

Tyrrell Hatton begins the defence of his title on the Old Course at 11.12 today hoping to become the first to win back-to-back Alfred Dunhill Championships. Last year he shot a record 62, and will be hoping for the same again.

Three amigos play it for laughs on the Old Course

Jamie Dornan, Matthew Goode and Brian O'Driscoll share a joke on the Swilken Bridge at St Andrews

The wind whipping across the Old Course carried the laughter of Jamie Dornan, Matthew Goode and Brian O'Driscoll as they enjoyed a light-hearted practice round. All three have made the cut before at the Alfred Dunhill Links Championship - and a laid-back practice round over the Old Course put them in good shape for the tournament.

"I felt good today, I hit it much better than I usually do," said Fifty Shades of Grey star Dornan. "It's great to be back. I shouldn't have been able to play, but a movie I was filming in Dublin was postponed, so that freed me up to be here."

Dornan made the cut with pro partner Tyrrell Hatton last year and watched at close quarters as the young Englishman claimed victory. "It felt absolutely terrifying and that I shouldn't be there - but it was very thrilling to be that close to Tyrrell winning the first of hopefully many events," added Dornan. "It'd be great to be in that position again."

Downton Abbey actor Matthew Goode is looking forward to teeing it up with former Ryder Cup player David Howell in the Team Championship. "I've been a long-time fan of 'The Howler' through the Ryder Cup and he is a very good pundit as well. Hopefully I won't get in his way."

"Most of my memories of Dunhill are of good shots and bad shots, then talking it out with the most amazing array of people from business, sport and arts."

Rugby legend Brian O'Driscoll is eager to make the cut for a second time. "You're not here to walk around for five hours. You really want to make the cut and have a laugh in the process."

NO BETTER SPORTING WEEK IN THE CALENDAR YEAR FOR A GOLF LOVER - @dunhilllinks!

Singer pals Brian and Ronan back on centre stage

After narrowly missing the cut last year, Westlife star hopes to follow his friend to the top of the leaderboard

Singer Brian McFadden is looking forward to spending time with his friend and former manager Ronan Keating this week - but the Westlife star claims his focus is on winning the Team Championship.

McFadden made his debut at the Alfred Dunhill Links Championship last year and teed off with his friend and professional partner Robert Rock, Boyzone frontman Keating and Peter Hanson.

Rock and McFadden will team up again this year and tee off at Carnoustie at 9:55 am. The Irishman - who plays off a handicap of 12 - insists his target is to improve on 2016, when he missed the cut.

McFadden said: "I'm competitive, I want to win. As soon as you stand on that first tee, it doesn't matter how much you have practised or what you think you can do, it all flies out of the window.

"Last year was the perfect start - teeing off first at St Andrews, and not just to have my good friend Robert beside me but Ronan, too. Ronan managed Westlife in 1998, so we've been close friends for a long time.

"There was great banter going on in that fourball, though I'm not sure Peter knew what was going on!"

McFadden and Rock shot nine-under in the opening round at the Old Course, but the wheels came off their challenge at Carnoustie.

The singer went on to reveal: "All of a sudden we were three or four over after nine holes and I was thinking 'I don't want to come last'. We were lucky to finish one-over at Carnoustie.

"In the end, we finished 20-under

Dad Tommy hopes to top off great year

After two European Tour wins, a charge up the rankings and a new baby, Tommy Fleetwood's year has been pretty good – but a win at his favourite course would cap it off perfectly.

The 26-year-old took six weeks away from his sport and spent five days in hospital with fiancée Clare around the arrival of their son Franklin.

And although the Englishman expects some aspects off his game to be a little unpredictable, he can't wait to start a tournament in which he's found form in the past.

He said: "It feels like you haven't played for a year when you come back. Distance control might be a little bit out. You know, I feel fine, my preparation the last two days has been good.

"I always enjoy this tournament, and yeah, I think there's always a bit more expectation on this event because I've played well in the past. I love the course of St Andrews. It's my favourite but that might have evened itself out after six weeks off."

He'll tee off today with American amateur Ogden Phipps at St Andrews where he previously carded impressive rounds of 62 and 63.

The World No.14 insists he has always been confident of his ability especially after victories in Dubai in January and the French Open.

Fleetwood said: "This year has been an accumulation of a lot of things and some bold decisions that paid off. Getting into the top 50 after my win at the beginning of the year naturally gives you a step up and once you are able to play in the big tournaments things can progress quickly. I also loved the challenge, I was ready for it."

in the Team Championship and were on the cut line but there were four teams on that and we lost on the countback.

"It was a tough night. Rocky and me just sat on the balcony of our apartment just above the 18th at St Andrews and stared out.

"Seeing how Danny Willett and caddie Jonathan Smart played last year to win The Masters made me realise how high the standard is. For us, it's like winning a Major. My goal is to make the cut and be there on Sunday."

Keating – who tees off today at 11:23 at the Old Course with partner Lee Westwood in this year's Team Championship – also has fond memories of last year's memorable fourball with McFadden.

He said: "I love playing golf with Brian. He's as passionate about the game as I am. He is a great golfer and I loved playing with him. It's always incredibly intimidating playing with big-name pros, so going round with a mate really helps."

The Boyzone star's finest moment came in 2008 when he saw his name at the top of the leaderboard after day two at St Andrews. He smiles: "It would be nice to repeat it. It's the only year I've made the cut."

St Andrews is 'pinnacle' for brave Marine

Golf has given Ian Bishop a new focus after he lost both legs serving as a Royal Marine, and he believes for an amateur player the Alfred Dunhill Links is as big as it gets.

The corporal's world changed forever when he stepped on an improvised explosive device in Afghanistan in 2009.

From that moment on Bishop, above, began a courageous battle which has seen him not just walk again using two prosthetic legs, but represent his country at golf in the Simpson Cup, a Ryder Cup-style match against disabled servicemen from the United States.

This week he reaches what he describes as the "pinnacle" of his achievement when he plays in the Alfred Dunhill Links.

Bishop said: "I'm very lucky to be involved in it. You won't get anything bigger for the amateur golfer than the Alfred Dunhill Links Championship.

"There had only been two or three people who had been wounded like this before, so nobody really knew just how able-bodied you could become.

"I was determined not to spend 90 per cent of my time in a wheelchair. I took up golf through the On Course Foundation, set up by John Simpson, who was Nick Faldo's manager."

Bishop said golf helped him master the use of his prosthetic legs. "Even if you use a buggy, you have to get out and walk on undulating ground which helps develop balance."

Five years on Grace puts faith in vintage Championship win

South African's landmark round at Kingsbarns was the highlight of 2012 victory

Branden Grace believes his 2012 win at the Alfred Dunhill Links Championship makes him a serious contender to claim a second title this year.

The 29-year-old South African led from first to last five years ago - opening with a course-record 12-under 60 at Kingsbarns - before finishing two shots clear of Denmark's Thorbjorn Olesen, who himself went on to claim the title in 2015.

"To win around this place takes a lot of patience," he said. "I know the courses, they don't change that much. I've got big expectations this week. I think I've got a good chance of being in contention.

"I feel like my game is in good shape. When you come back to a place like this where you've had success you already feel much more confident than at a normal tournament. It's tough conditions this week. It's going to be a grind. But having those past experiences are really going to help me."

A bridge too far?

Defending champion Tyrrell Hatton hit a course record 62 last year but is staying coy about whether he can repeat the feat this week.

Fans were thrilled when he carded the course-equalling 10-under round on the Old Course.

But after posing on the 18th hole's famous Swilken Bridge, Hatton believes the weather will prove crucial to hitting a historic 61.

Hatton said: "It certainly depends on the conditions this year, if anyone can better that. If they are calm, then everyone's got a chance to do it. But it's not something I'll go out there trying to beat.

"You know, that was a really special round to me, the lowest round I ever shot. I'll just take those good vibes and go out there. It's been windy the last few days so hopefully the conditions ease up."

Hatton will team up again with Fifty Shades actor Jamie Dornan and admits he thrives off the huge number of supporters that follow the Irishman.

He said: "He had a big following last year. It's good. It's nice to play in front of crowds and gives a bit of an atmosphere.

"I know Jamie was a bit nervous last year. But you know, that's what it's all about."

It's one man and his dog...

He may have been playing vital practice rounds, but that didn't stop Matthew Fitzpatrick bringing his dog along. The English pro's family retriever Charlie watched on as he hit shots in St Andrews and Kingsbarns ahead of the Alfred Dunhill Links.

The world No.35 will be teeing off on the Old Course at 10.17am today, playing with South African businessman Jeremy Ord. But without his trusted pet, he'll be hoping to avoid driving into the 'ruff'.

The Alfred Dunhill Links Championship celebrates links golf at its finest and is played over the Old Course at St Andrews, the Championship Course at Carnoustie and Kingsbarns Golf Links. The final round, after the cut is made on Saturday, is played over the Old Course.

With a total prize fund of US$5 million, there are two separate competitions - an individual professional tournament and the Team Championship, in which each professional is paired with an amateur.

Curious mind leads Klitschko to golf

Former heavyweight champion reveals he first picked up clubs to understand a shock loss in the ring

Boxing legend Wladimir Klitschko turned to golf to discover why he was knocked out in one of the sport's biggest upsets.

The former world heavyweight champion had lost his title to unfavoured South African Corrie Sanders in 2003 and wanted to know why.

As he gets set to play in his second Alfred Dunhill Links, Klitschko said:

"Corrie was a golfer and I wanted to understand why he was faster and hitting harder than my other opponents. I wanted to understand and study Corrie better. It's like in chess: to see what they see, sit where they sit."

After retiring in August, the 6ft 6in star is looking forward to his return to the Home of Golf.

He said: "I will give it my best, and I am sure I will be nervous on the first tee. St Andrews is a very historic town. I love history and will enjoy my time there."

"The Old Course is the mecca of golf, and it is an honour to play there with the pros. I was super-duper proud and excited to play in 2008. Last time I played I didn't hit any spectators with my ball!"

Klitschko won 64 of his 69 fights and at various times held the WBA, IBF, WBO and IBO world heavyweight titles.

Shops out in front

Gift shop Bonkers is the winner of the Alfred Dunhill Links Best Shop Front Competition with a creative replica of the Old Course and scoreboards. Bonkers wins two VIP tickets to the Championship Hospitality hosted by the Old Course Hotel.

Runners-up, J&G Innes and Ladybird Florists, have won two VIP afternoon tickets at the Old Course Hotel for the final day.

Meanwhile there are several great offerings for spectators to enjoy in St Andrews in Alfred Dunhill week.

The Adamson's mixologist Joe Cassidy has created a new cocktail called 'The Dunhill' to mark the Championship.

The St Andrews Brewing Company, which has returned the craft of brewing to the town after 114 years, is offering 15 per cent off. Just bring along a Links Times.

Fisher & Donaldson's bakery is making traditional cookies with the Championship trophy on the icing.

And world-famous Jannetta's ice cream shop is collaborating with Eden Mill distillery, using their Whisky No 4, to create a new flavour 'sláinte,' which will be launched in the tented village at the Old Course.

Pepperell thrills kids with birdie

Children from Kingsbarns Primary School had a hoot as Eddie Pepperell brought an owl along yesterday.

But it wasn't a real bird, rather the headcover for the Englishman's driver. He told how it was a present from his girlfriend who believes he has a passing resemblance to the owl.

Pepperell, 26, also revealed he won an event aged 12 at Balgove course in St Andrews.

In an intensive Q&A session, the pupils gleaned that Pepperell doesn't break too many tees, gets plenty of balls from his sponsor and has an image of dog Gus sewn onto his golf bag. His Hungarian Vizsla is in St Andrews, sharing his hotel room.

He also told the excited children how he's played in 40 countries with Leopard Creek in South Africa being his favourite tournament venue.

The schoolkids wished him luck before he tees off with former cricketer Mark Nicholas at Carnoustie.

Although one youngster wondered why his big golf bag didn't have wheels...

Old Course

St Andrews is the Home of Golf and the Old Course is at its heart. The most famous golf course in the world, it measures 7,305 yards, has a par of 72 and radiates a sense of history. As the weather changes, it can be benign one day and a mighty challenge the next, but throughout it remains the greatest stage on which golf is played.

Carnoustie

Carnoustie is one of the toughest and most merciless links courses. At 7,394 yards with a par of 72, it has staged seven Open Championships. The Barry Burn which snakes across the course has produced many dramatic finishes.

Kingsbarns

Kingsbarns is comfortably the youngest of the three courses, having been opened as recently as 1999, but it is a classic in the making and is beginning to earn a formidable reputation. Loved by golfers for its picturesque backdrop with fine views over the North Sea, it measures 7,227 yards with a par of 72.
